

Medical/Physical Effects

Brain injury and Cognitive issues (including memory loss)
Cardiovascular issues (including changes to the blood)
Damage to the skin (including scoop marks, scratches, and burns)
Radiation sickness
Genetic changes
Immune system issues
Objects in the body (with no clear entry point or inflammation in the surrounding tissue)
Paralysis
Sleep Disorders
Reproductive issues or sexual encounters
Pain and/or nerve issues
Temporal Effects
Eye issues or damage (including flash burns and distortions)
Electromagnetic frequencies and responses to the body
Unusual Healing
Other injury (including broken bones, sprains, wounds, scarring, etc.)
Loss of consciousness
Nose bleeds
Cancer
Death

Psychological/Sociological Issues

Cognitive Dissonance
Cognitive issues (also in medical/physical)
Denial, shame, anger, euphoria, fear, and other feelings not associated with a DSM diagnosis
DSM Disorder Diagnoses (including Substance Use Disorder)
Issues related to perception
Issues associated with hallucinations and delusions
Isolation (from family, friends, or society)
Personality changes
Increased abilities associated with intuition
Compulsive or obsessive responses to the UAP topic
Sociological implications (including concerns about identity and religion)
Increased conflicts related to the UAP topic
Response to social contagion
Need for a neuropsychological referral
Loss of income due to stigma (being fired) due to UAP interest
Stockholm Syndrome
Ineffective support from family and friends.
Lack of understanding regarding the UAP experience.
Responding to media influence or stigmatization.